PEACE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND JAPAN.

The Little Japs Abandon All Demands For Reimbursements.

Treaty Will Be Arranged at Once.—The Last Act of a Bloody Drama Is Finished, Let the Curtain Drop.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 29.—Peace between Russia and Japan was practically concluded at this morning's session of the peace conference.

In the final struggle the Russians achieved the victory. For the sake of peace, the Japanese, with a magnanimity worthy of their heroic achievements in this war, met the ultimatum of the Czar and reimbursement for the cost of the war, but for the repurchase of the northern half of Sakhalin, Russia at the same time agreeing to division of the island.

The news that peace had been agreed upon caused the most intense excitement at the hotels where the envoys had been staying. Everywhere there was a delirium of jubilation.

The following dispatch, dated Monday the 28th, shows that at that time peace seemed hopeless. It will also be seen that Japan's concessions were unusually liberal, conceding to Russia all that she contended for, as set forth in this dispatch:

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 28.—The life of the peace conference Sunday seemed to hang by a thread, but the thread will not be broken Monday. At 10 o'clock Sunday night, after a two-hour conference between Mr. Takahira and Mr. Witte, in the latter's room in the hotel annex, the announcement of a postponement was made. Mr. Witte explained that Mr. Takahira had told him that no new instructions had reached him from Tokyo, and that he was not to be received before the meeting scheduled for Monday afternoon. He had suggested the propriety of postponing the meeting until Tuesday. To this Mr. Witte assented and readily assented. Mr. Takahira made the following statement:

"Inasmuch as this conference was initiated by the friendly offices of the president, after consultation we felt that we should be cautious about terminating its labors. Faced as to whether he regarded the situation as hopeless, Mr. Takahira said:

"No; not hopeless, but almost hopeless." This itself from one who has spoken always in the most guarded fashion, is sufficient to show the seriousness of the situation. The real crisis in negotiations is at hand. It is very acute, but if it can be lided over for a few days without a break in the peace negotiations, peace between the two sides may very suddenly. But to save the situation now, Japan must speak for Tuesday she has nothing to offer, all is over.

Mr. Witte's Hands Are Tied. Mr. Witte, even if he would, is powerless to take a new step. His hands are tied. He now occupies the role of an imperial messenger who transmits his master's orders to Baron Komura, and Baron Komura turns them over to Tokyo for the response. The foremost room has ceased to be a place for negotiations. It is simply the place where the emperors of the warring countries exchange their communications by the hands of their envoys. And upon the point of indemnity or reimbursement of "Pras de Guerre" under any dispute, Baron Komura has given the Japanese emperor's last word. Mr. Witte accepts it as final and in writing Saturday informed the Japanese plenipotentiaries that Russia would have nothing further to say upon this subject. Russia would cede half of Sakhalin and pay the cost of the maintenance of the Russian prisoners, but that was all. Emperor Nicholas had given the same ambassador to the president through Ambassador Meyer. The Russians generally seem not displeased with the situation. They believe Japan has been diplomatically maneuvered into a corner from which, if she now persists in her attempt to exact tribute with the alternative of continuance of the war, she can not extricate herself before the public opinion of the world, Japan here and in Europe, lay eyes, appealed for sympathy on the ground that Russia had compelled her to take up arms to protect her life. The fortune of war had gone in her favor and Russia, recognizing that she had been beaten and preferring peace to the continuation of the war, had agreed to cede upon every point involved in the quarrel.

Russia Will Pay No Indemnity. She was willing to allow Japan full swing in Korea, she was willing to get out of Manchuria, bag and baggage, and commit herself to the recognition of China's integrity and the policy of "the open door." But Japan insisted upon tribute and because Russia refused, prolongs the carnage. In that act they content Japan would change the purpose and character of the war which would cease to be no longer one of principle, but degenerate into a war for the exaction of money.

There is no doubt that the Japanese are worried over this aspect of the situation and they do not propose to be placed in this position if it can be helped. With the sentiment existing in Japanese demanding reimbursement for the expenses of the war, a money payment beyond what would be obtained upon purely a commercial basis, Russia might agree to it. Logic points in this direction for the ultimate compromise if there is to be one.

Whether the president has renewed his efforts can not be ascertained here. His former suggestion for a compromise failed. He made his appeal simultaneously to both the czar and the emperor of Japan.

Japs Capture An American Vessel. San Francisco, Aug. 28.—News has been received here that the American bark Antiope has been captured by the Japanese. The vessel sailed from this port in June last for Nicolaevsk, with a general cargo.

SCORE 16 TO 1

In Favor of Springfield Sluggers.

Greensburg Completely at the Mercy of Colvin.

The Springfield baseball team, for the second time this season, decisively defeated the Greensburg team by the score of 16 to 1. The team Springfield put in the field could have beaten any amateur team in the State, so this softens the sting of Greensburg's defeat. The feature of the game was the almost perfect fielding of the Springfield infield, they making two lightning doubles. The outfield did not have a single chance. The hitting of Springfield was also a feature, four three-baggers and numerous singles being made off Ward. Greensburg got only one hit, and not a man stole second, while Springfield is credited with ten stolen bases.

The Nebraska Indians will probably play here in September, when a real ball game can be expected.

Death of John Wharton.

Mr. John R. Wharton died at his home at Mitchellburg, in Boyle county, Monday night, of heart trouble. Mr. Wharton formerly lived here, and was a nephew of Major James L. Wharton. He was about fifty-one years old and was an excellent citizen. While he resided here he conducted a lively stable, and was always found accommodating and genial. The deceased numbered his friends by his acquaintances, and there are hundreds of people here who will be shocked to learn of his sudden death. His body was buried at Danville this morning at 11 o'clock.

Made A Hit.

Mr. E. Clinton Keithley, the popular young Louisville composer, made quite a hit here last week with his new song, "In The Valley Where The Old Ohio Flows." Every day he was called upon to sing it three or four times. The song is certainly pretty, and Mr. Keithley is to be congratulated upon his success.

THE HARVEST.

(Edmund Vance Cook.)

In Siberia's wilds we sowed, we sowed; We planted the seed with the good, the good; With the rasping knout the season through We harrowed it well and it grew—it grew!

In stricken Finland we sowed, we sowed; The flower of Freedom we sowed and hoed; We stuck it down and nourished the seed Till the soil it choked with the seed—the seed.

In ancient Poland we sowed, we sowed; Every hope of the human heart we sowed; With our brothers' bones we rotted the field And out of them springs the yield—the yield.

Before the palace we sowed, we sowed; Our fertile seed was the rifle's lead; In womanly flesh and flesh of child We sowed and the seed runs wild—runs wild.

In crowded cities we sowed, we sowed; We watered the seed with the blood which flowed; With blood and tears we watered it well, And behold the harvest of hell—the hell!

Defeat and dishonor thorn the path, Murder and mutiny, rain and wrath; O nations of Earth, the nettles ye sow In the hearts of a people—they grow, they grow!

SCHOOL OPENS

On Next Monday, September 4.

More Room Supplied For An Increased Attendance.

The Springfield Graded School opens on Monday, September 4, its second year, under most promising conditions. The old corps of teachers, having given universal satisfaction in the past year, have been retained. Another room has been added in anticipation of an increased attendance, so that ample facilities are insured even if the number of pupils goes beyond that of last year.

The people of Springfield and of Washington county are beginning to realize that their school is as good as any in the State. We believe that in the near future our boys and girls, instead of being sent to colleges at immature ages and at increased expense, will appreciate that they can do better here at home until they are prepared to complete a collegiate course. The county officers here are on a par with that of the Louisville high schools, and its completion secures admission to the junior or third year in all southern colleges.

The Sun hereby pledges its earnest support to every effort of the efficient board of trustees and its teachers, and confidently expects this year's session to surpass all others in its success.

Marion Items.

Falcon: Dr. W. W. Ray and family have removed from Hopkinsville to their new home in this city, recently vacated by Dr. Moffett.

Falcon: Mr. Claud Montgomery, a well-known young man of Columbia, and Miss Rena Judd, the pretty nineteen-year-old daughter of Deputy Collector J. H. Judd, eloped to Tennessee Monday and were married.

Falcon: Mrs. John Nelson, aged nineteen years, died at her home, on the Short Line pike, four miles from this city, Friday after an illness of several weeks. Her remains were interred at Bethel Union Sunday. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. Robert Lanham, and had been married only nine months.

Falcon: Mr. Lucien Webster was killed in the wreck of a passenger train in Pennsylvania at 12 o'clock Wednesday, and his remains will pass through this city tomorrow on the way to his home in Campbellsville, where the interment will take place. Deceased was the catcher for a bloomer girls' baseball team and was traveling with them at the time of his death. He was a son of Mr. R. A. Webster, a prominent citizen of Campbellsville, and was well known here, where he has played several games of ball. He has a large number of friends here who sincerely regret his untimely death.

Death of Mr. Gordon.

Mr. Joseph T. Gordon, one of the county's oldest and most highly respected citizens, died at his home, near Texas, Sunday morning of the infirmities of old age. The deceased was eighty-three years old, and, with the exception of a few years spent in another county, has lived in Washington county all of his life. He was a devout member of the Baptist church, having united with that church when he was seventeen years old. Funeral services were conducted Monday at 11 o'clock by Rev. R. L. Purdon, and the body was interred in the cemetery at Bethesda. There are few men in the county who are better known than Mr. Gordon, and none who are more highly honored by their acquaintances than he was the deceased. He was loyal to his church, his friends and his family. He leaves three sons and numerous other relatives and friends, who will deeply mourn his death. The sons are Squire John Gordon, Thomas and Rev. William, all of whom have the sympathy of their friends.

Important Business Change.

Kentucky Standard: For some time past it has been quite evident that Bardonia is too small for three drug stores. The druggists themselves realized this, and have been discussing the problem for some months. Finally the proposition was made by one of them and accepted by the other two that they cast lots, and in that way determine which one of the three should go out of business, the loser to be paid $1,000 by the other two. The proposition was accepted by them all, and today the drawing came off and dice were rolled. James M. Wilson, of "cents," threw the highest number, J. Robert Crum the next highest number and Jos. Millheiser the lowest number. Therefore it fell upon Millheiser to close. He took his medicine like a little man, and by the time the Kentucky Standard is before the public his house will be locked up. Under the proposition his entire stock is to be taken by his two former competitors, J. M. Wilson and Crum, he has paid his one-half of the $1,000. As we go to press Mr. Millheiser called on Millheiser to say that he had having claims against the now extinct firm, Millheiser & Co., and that he would present them to the H. E. Cox, who will pay them dollar for dollar.

Farm For Sale.

The well-known farm owned by the late J. T. Miller, 18-Spencer county. For terms apply to WOOD-MILLER, Fairfield, Ky.

Protracted Meeting.

The distinguished evangelist, Rev. Nathan Backman, P. D., of Tennessee, will begin a protracted meeting at the Presbyterian church next Sunday, at 11 a. m. We hereby cordially invite all the churches and citizens in Springfield and the surrounding country to come up with us "to the help of the Lord against the mighty," that every church and every home may receive special blessings from the Lord. T. D. LATIMER, Pastor of the Presbyterian church, Springfield Ky.

LARGE NUMBER OF DEATHS

Thirteen Die In One Day In New Orleans.—Thirty-One New Cases.

The Unusual Number of Deaths Is Attributed to the Changeable Weather.—New Cases Reported.

DR. WALTER W. MANN. (Surgeon General in Control of Medical Work at New Orleans.)

CAIRO QUARANTINE.

Thirteen Cases Were Discovered By the Board of Health.

New Orleans, Aug. 28.—Report to 6 p. m. Sunday: New cases, 31; total to date, 1,743; deaths, 13; total, 255; new foci, 12; total, 402; remaining under treatment, 115.

New Orleans, Aug. 28.—The record shows the smallest number of new cases since August 6, and the largest number of deaths on any day since the fever made its appearance. The unusual number of deaths is attributed in a measure to the change in the weather, Saturday night being cool and pleasant, in great contrast to the weather of the preceding week. Three well-known merchants are among the new cases. Only two names that can be traced to Italian origin are among the 31. Of the deaths eight are Italians.

The principal news from outside the city was the announcement from Natchez of the discovery of six cases there and the attempt to blame New Orleans for them. This is regarded as strange in view of the fact that all of the tight quarantines against New Orleans, Natchez has maintained the tightest, not even allowing its own people to return if they had been near New Orleans.

Reports From The Country. Other reports from the country are as follows: Patterson, one new case, and no deaths; Amelia, two new cases; Byron Boon, one case; Pecon Grove, three cases and one death; Elizabeth plantation, one death; Hanson City, four new cases and one death; St. Pose, two cases; Port Barrow, two cases; Ninth Ward of Jefferson parish, one case; Lake Providence, three cases; Gulfport, one case; Mississippi City, no new cases.

The Southern Pacific railroad, at the request of the state board of health, has put on a special coach for the accommodation of people traveling between infected points on that road. It will be run every other day.

GREAT SUCCESS

Was Meeting of Fair Last week.

Finest Stock Ever Shown In The County.

The most successful Fair ever held in Washington county was that which closed a four days' meeting in Springfield on last Saturday afternoon.

Large crowds and perfect weather marked each of the four days.

The first and second days were ladies' and children's days, and they were there in great numbers. Floral Hall was the most interesting in years, the display being extremely beautiful.

The stock was the best ever seen in the county and the judges frequently found it difficult to decide where the blue ribbon belonged. The improvement in stock over former years was very noticeable, and the stockmen of the county are to be congratulated. Stock raisers, for the past few years, have been making every effort to improve their breeds, and nothing more clearly demonstrates that they have succeeded to a very great extent than the fine stock which was shown at the Crowds of Through Passengers Were Detained at the Central Station.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 28.—Crowds of through passengers were detained at the Central station because they were not supplied with permits and a guard was placed over them until they could be sent on their way. A number of arrests were made of persons who were trying to evade the quarantine officers. A lady arrived on a steamer from Memphis en route to Indiana; she had no permit and her train did not leave till morning; she was permitted to go to a hotel and was obliged to stay in the place until her train departed. Many similar cases were experienced.

A special train will be run from here to Bardonia on account of Nelson County Fair. Train will leave at 10:20 a. m. For Thursday fare will be $1.00, Friday and Saturday, 50c.

Final week.

The success of this meeting was due largely to A. C. Kimball. For the past two months he has worked almost unceasingly to the end of pulling off the greatest Fair in the history of the Association.

A list of the premium awards will be found on another page of this issue.

Death of a Little Child.

A little five-year-old daughter of Mr. John L. Jones, of near Fredericktown, died last Monday of flux. The little girl had been ill for about two weeks, but it was not thought that she was dangerously ill until a day or two before she died. She was a bright child, and her death comes as a severe blow to the father and mother, to whom The Sun, with numerous friends, extends condolences.

Death of Mr. Heisner.

The many friends of Mr. A. J. Heisner at this place were shocked to learn of his death at his home at Finchville, near Louisville, yesterday. Mr. Heisner was a contracting plasterer and was well known in Springfield, where he had at times been given large contracts. He was an honest workman and a genial, kind-hearted man. He died of typhoid fever.

Public Sale of Shorthorns At "Wildwood," Wednesday, Sept. 6, 1905.

I will offer about 35 head of Thoroughbred Shorthorn Cattle. At same time and place China & Forsythe will sell 12 head. We will have about 20 head of High Grade Shorthorns. At same time and place Mr. John R. Bailey will sell 12 head of Blue Grass Hornless Cattle. This includes eight or ten young bulls, balance cows and heifers. They are all reds, and most of them horned. They are in simply good stock order, the proper condition for practical purposes. These cattle have not been fed for show purposes. All old enough are bred to calve next spring. This is a first-class opportunity for any man to make an investment in stock that will pay. I have never sold a Shorthorn calf for less than $60, nor a high-grade for less than $80. This certainly is better than selling at from $15 to $20. They are principally of Young Mary and Young Pella families, with a straight Bates Bull at head of herd. Write me for catalogue.

TERMS OF SALE:—All sums under $25, cash; over $25, six months' time, with bankable notes bearing six per cent. interest.

Amusing Political Campaign.

Kentucky Standard: In 1831 old Ben Hardin was a candidate for re-election to the Senate. His competitor was Mr. Stillwell Hedy, of Spencer county. Hedy had served in the Lower House during the term Mr. Hardin was in the Senate, and had acquired some parliamentary experience, and was a shrewd man and adroit campaigner. He was, to a considerable extent, addicted to conviviality, and, when in a jolly mood, sang a good song. One of his favorites on such occasions was "The Old-Olden Buckle." He entered interestingly into the canvass, delivering public addresses throughout the district, of which Mr. Hardin was the text. That the latter was not idle may be judged by the following incident:

On one occasion Hedy had an appointment for speaking at Boston, in Nelson county. He was promptly on hand, but his opponent was absent. He proceeded with his speech, in which he arraigned Mr. Hardin for failing to attend his appointments, and also for absence from his seat and failure to vote in the Senate on some measures when the yeas and nays were demanded. On these points he dilated at length, as he fancied, somewhat to his opponent's cost. The orator, in delivering his address, occupied a porch fronting on the roadside, and just as he was concluding, somewhat to his surprise, Mr. Hardin rode up. The dress of the latter consisted of a roundabout and trousers of white linen, or what had been white but were begrimed and soiled from rapid travel, muddy roads and a perspiring horse. As he rode up he threw one leg over his saddle and slipped off his horse in front of Hedy with a humorous smile on his face.

When the latter concluded, Hardin began his speech thus: "Gentlemen, the Good Book tells us that he that cometh at the eleventh hour shall receive the same wages as he that cometh at the third," or, in other words, rule of compensation he insisted. He then said he had not the pleasure of listening to his competitor, but he would, nevertheless, proceed to answer it. It was true that he had not voted on every measure before the Senate during his term, but for that he had an explanation and excuse. He had a large law practice when he was elected, as his fellow-citizens well knew. His duty to his clients was imperative. He had many cases in the Court of Appeals at Frankfort. When one of these cases was called he was compelled to temporarily vacate his seat in the Senate and attend to it; but, when not thus engaged by professional duties, he was always at his post. Not so, however, with Mr. Hedy. He was frequently absent from his seat in the House when the yeas and nays were called. He was not a lawyer, and could not plead duty to his clients for his absence. "Where, gentlemen," proceeded Mr. Hardin, "he would find him on such occasions?" By going to the door of some neighboring grogshop and listening who could hear the voice of the gentleman warbling, more or less musically, the words: "The old oxen bucket, the iron-bound bucket, the moss-covered bucket which hangs in the well."

Mr. Hedy was defeated, but with the honor of succeeding Mr. Hardin on the resignation of the latter in 1833.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care can not be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to grip. As this does not check the bowels, give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with the greatest confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by C. J. Haydon, druggist.

Jar Means Death.

Philadelphia, August 18.—"I am willing to go whenever the Lord calls me." Wan and showing the effects of his long illness, George Handforth told the doctors at the Methodist Hospital today that his ambition was satisfied and he did not care to live any longer. One year ago today he fell from a tank at the Atlantic Refining Company's plant at Point Breeze and fractured the fifth and sixth cervical vertebrae.

An operation was quickly performed, and though the physicians expected the patient to pass away before he came out of the ether, the splintered vertebrae were re-set, but the shock of the fall had paralyzed the spinal cord. From the neck down Handforth has been powerless to move, and the physicians say that it has been only his grit and good temper that have kept him alive. The slightest jar would cause his death, so a special pneumatic mattress was purchased for Handforth and a system of braces arranged about the cot on which he is lying to keep the covering from coming in contact with his body. News of a second complaint has escaped the lips of the wonderful sufferer. Fearing to unduly excite the patient, the physicians would not permit any unusual celebration of the anniversary of his accident to-day. His family called to see him during the morning and found him cheerful and contented. He realizes, however, that he can never recover and is not anxious to live. He is only twenty-four years old.

MOORESVILLE.

As Miss Louise Settle was returning from her job Wednesday her buggy was overturned, dislocating her arm. She is doing nicely at present.

Miss Ophelia Yates, after a visit to her parents, has returned to the city to resume her duties there.

Your correspondent attended the fair at Springfield last Saturday, saw a large crowd and good stock. Gambling was carried on to great extent; but men do not have to gamble. Boys, if you gamble you'll lose your money.

Miss Artie Wall, of this place, visited Miss Katie Smith, at Booker, last Sunday.

Mr. Joe Hays went to Louisville last Sunday to see his wife.

Mr. James Hendricks left last Friday for Moore, Oklahoma, to visit his daughter, Miss Ethel, who is teaching school there. If he likes he will locate there in the near future.

Mr. Emmet Settle has completed a large tobacco barn.

There are several farms for sale in this vicinity. Terms are reasonable, but prices are high per acre.

Several from this place attended church at Mount Zion Sunday night.

William Sweeney was here last Sunday.

Mr. George Grigsby lost a valuable horse last Sunday. It died from an unknown cause.

Mr. George Chesler lost a good mare last Sunday from eating Prats green.

Mr. Shelby Crume and family, Mr. John Dawson and family and Miss Chassey Collins visited Mr. John Collins, at Woodlawn, last Sunday.

Miss James Call and daughter, Miss Ollie, visited friends and relatives at Chaplin last week.

Messrs. Love Shumate, Robert Reed and Owen Ellis, of Woodlawn, visited friends at this place last Sunday.

Mrs. T. D. Sweeney is on the sick list.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public.

This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease for over 35 years. A sure protection to you is our name on the bottle. Look for it on all Dr. King's, or Bucklen's, remedies, as all others are mere imitations. H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada. For sale by C. J. Haydon, druggist.

Robbed Mail Man.

Morehead, Ky., Aug. 24.—Chas. and Rolla Frayley and Mason Stinger, living near Elliottsville, this county, are in jail here charged with holding up and robbing Chas. Adams, a mail carrier.

Lexington's Union Depot.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 24.—Articles of incorporation were filed here for the Lexington Union Station Co., with a capital stock of $25,000.

JUMPED FROM A ROOF.

But the Fugitive Was Caught By Officers As He Landed.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 25.—After eluding the police for three months Ollie Bush, son of a prominent Henry county farmer, was brought here from his father's home and arraigned before County Judge Bullock on a charge made by Miss Rosa McKenna, aged 18, in default of $1,000—bail he was remanded to jail to await trial. The charge against Bush was made three months ago, and the young lady in question is now confined in a hospital in Louisville, Ky. The young people were both employed at the Eastern Kentucky lunatic asylum, in this city. The complainant is the daughter of Mrs. John Vaughn, of Fifth and Chestnut streets and is one of the most beautiful young girls in the city. When the officers from this city at tempted to arrest Bush he made an unsuccessful effort to escape by way of the roof of his father's house. He was caught as he jumped to the ground.

CURTIS JETT.

Attempt To Be Made To Retry Him For Murder of Attorney Marcum.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 25.—County Attorney I. Stanley Webster, of Harrison county, confirms the report that an attempt is to be made to try Curtis Jett again for the murder of James B. Marcum at Cynthiana. Jett was given a death sentence for Marcum's murder but the court of appeals reversed the decision of the lower court and set the case back for retrial. Jett was given a life sentence for the murder of James Cockrell, and is now confined in the penitentiary at Frankfort. Due authorities will make a fight against taking Jett from prison to be retried.

Stampede Among Tax Payers.

Glasgow, Ky., Aug. 25.—Frank A. Lucas, auditor's agent for the state at large, has created somewhat of a stampede among the tax payers of this county by notifying 300 of them of personal property omitted by them, ranging in amounts from $200 to $30,000, and running from one to five years.

Woman Overturned a Saloon.

Sergeant, Ky., Aug. 25.—Mrs. Mary Jones, 36, a mountain woman of the Boone county border, who has fought the liquor question for years, went to a nearby saloon of the "blind tiger" kind, and with great strength turned it over a 20-foot embankment into the waters of Troublesome creek.

Destructive Cloudburst.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 25.—A cloud-burst did great damage in this county. Water on the country roads was six inches deep, and in places four feet high were submerged. Lightning damaged trees and barns, and it is reported that several head of cattle were killed.

Record Fills 2,500 Pages.

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 25.—The record in the donkey appeal taken from the Clark county circuit court by the opposing sides in the Marcum damage suit has been filed in the court of appeals. It is a voluminous document of some 2,500 pages.

HOPE AND CALOMEL--

Don't let loose of Hope! Cling to it like the nail clings to the finger, like the skin clings to the flesh. Go over the precipice, down into the whirlpool, hugging it to your bosom. If gaunt disease leads you up to the yawning grave clinging to Hope, and after a while your friends may be delighted to hear you whistling Yankee Doodle.

The two greatest medicines known to the world are Hope and calomel; the former makes the heart pump right, the latter ransacks the liver, b'lie's it down, puts it through a sort of a soap-suds, rinses it, wrings it out, and places a fallow in shape to appear before the footlights and dance an astonishingly scientific jig. Some poor fellows swallow ten grains of morphine, at a cost of twenty-five cents--burial expenses, $100--when a two-cent postage stamp invested in three grains of calomel would clear up matters in a most satisfactory manner.

Hope and calomel? They're the remedies! They're the anti-suicides. The former can be procured by exercising a little common sense--by listening to a song, by hugging a little child to your breast, by going home and kissing the "old woman," by talking over the times when you told her she was sweeter than six pounds of brown sugar, and she answered by saying your little mustache was real becoming; the latter, remedy--go around to the drug store and buy it--calomel--three grains, with a little soda--swallow just before retiring, and we'll guarantee that by 9 o'clock next morning the sun in the heavens will look like a mountain of gold, and the blue skies will be as an immense sheet of silver. It's a big piece of tomfoolery to kill yourself.

"Yellow fever kills five men where it kills one woman," announces an expert. If this is true the mosquito uses blamed poor judgment when it goes out on a biting expedition.

A man up in Michigan has been sent to the penitentiary for stealing a billy goat. And, wouldn't you call this a case of "buttin' in"?

If the courts of the country would make it possible for the newspapers of the country to print the story of a hanging every time they print the story of a murder news of this sort would soon become very scarce.

Abraham Lincoln's birthplace in LaRue county was sold last Monday for $3,600. It will take more money than that to buy Abe's Washington county birthplace.

During the past two weeks there have been six suicides in Louisville. Before we would commit such a rash act we would leave the city.

A Chicago man asked a woman for a kiss. She kicked him in the mouth, knocked some false teeth down into his windpipe and he choked to death. That was very unladylike.

PRATHER'S CREEK.

Hello, brother and sister correspondent. What is getting the matter with us that we do not write oftener? It seems to me that we are not doing our duty as we should to help build up The Sun. For my part, I have hardly had time to write a letter, but will try and do my part from now on.

Our public school is progressing nicely under the management of Professor Sweeney.

Since our last report the following sales have occurred: Wyoff & Case to J. T. Skeans, twenty stock ewes at $5.50 per head; W. B. Hatchett to W. T. Kimberlin, twenty-five ewes at $4.75 per head; E. G. Holliday to G. H. Christerson, ten ewes at $4.50 per head. Jacob Coconougher and wife, Perryville, visited relatives near this place last week, and took in the fair.

Mrs. Mattie Crain, of Endo, Boyle county, spent Tuesday with her parents here and attended the fair Wednesday.

Everyone says the fair this year was the best ever held in the county.

Mr. G. H. Mays is confined to his home by a siege of hay fever.

Mr. J. M. Russell has received from Washington about 200 nice fish which he will put into his large pond.

Public Sale of Household Goods.

On Friday, September 1, at 1 o'clock p. m., I will offer to the highest bidder, at public auction, my household and kitchen furniture.

MRS. KATE CANTER.

For Sale.

I have a lot of office fixtures and surgical instruments which I desire to sell. Low price. Also a soda fountain and a horse and buggy. Dr. S. J. SMOCK.

BARDSTOWN PIKE AND FREDERICKSTOWN.

We travel on this pike once in a while and thought a few lines would be appreciated.

Rev. Pieters had a clerical visitor lately. He stayed for a few days and did the preaching last Sunday. His discourse was enjoyed by all. The guest is a professor of Jasper College, Indiana, but we failed to learn his name. He was quite successful at the burg, for when he left he took along with him four boys, who will devote themselves to the different studies in the well known college. The reverend guest has a great many relations around Willingburg, who are proud to have such a learned gentleman in their family.

Mrs. James A. Cecil obtained the blue ribbon on her home-made wine. It was well deserved, for the beverage was just simply delicious, and we would not mind receiving a sample for a Christmas present.

Some boys of this neighborhood have enrolled themselves for Gethsemane College this year, but we failed to learn the names of these privileged young men.

Saint Catherine's also will have a few young ladies. Saint Catherine's is a grand institution, and one can congratulate herself if it was her boon to be educated there. The academy, so the Sun stated, will be open on September 15. We wish the good sisters all the success they deserve.

Mr. John Tucker has to hang his tobacco in his stables and buggies, pantry and meathouse, as the carpenters failed to get through with the tobacco barn.

Miss Warren was received in the Baptist communion last Sunday. It is a great acquisition for the church.

We witnessed a very imposing ceremony at the Beech Fork river bridge last week. It was the fulfilling of the ordinance of baptism. Thirteen brethren were received in the church, which shows that our eloquent divine has not worked in vain at Mill Creek church.

Miss Ella Shaunty has left us for Texas, Ky., where she is teaching school. We were sorry to see her go, for Miss Ella is a very popular young woman. We believe strongly that she has been writing some very interesting and much appreciated articles for the popular Springfield Sun. Her talk was the kind the world needs so much today; it was straight talk--straight in facts and right straight to the point. We all hope "Miss Allie" will let us hear from her again and give us a few more series of talks.

The Springfield fair was a success in every way--good stock, splendid order and fine horses. The day we went was a very beautiful day--not too warm and very pleasant. There was a fine display of babies, and it would have been hard for us to tie the blue ribbon.

Some good stock of this neighborhood has been exhibited at the fair, and Mr. P. S. Barber and Albert Hamilton rarely entered the ring with stock without carrying along the red or the blue. Mr. Sam Nally also showed his beautiful stallion, winning the blue. He was offered a good price for his nice animal, but did not feel like selling him, yet, as he is very valuable to him. Whenever he showed him since the time he was a suckling colt he has won the blue. The horse will be at Bardstown, where we hope he will have the success he had at Springfield. Sam is a very energetic farmer and is very successful. He is a hard-working man, and everything he possesses has been earned through attention to duty and good hard labor.

Miss Florence Hamilton is visiting in Springfield. The large crowd of her friends is missing her very much.

Dr. George Shaunty, although head over heels in work at Louisville, has taken time to come and see his friends at Springfield and the burg. He is a very successful physician, and it is always a pleasure to us to see him again. His stay was very short, and, putting duty before pleasure, he went back to attend again to his numerous city patients.

The public school, under the management of the Misses Osborne, is doing very nicely, and the numerous children who attend are making remarkable progress, to the great satisfaction and joy of the parents.

We have been trying our best to find out who Pat was, but have failed so far. We will not give it up. We hope to hear from him this week.

With best wishes, I am, yours truly,

MACKVILLE.

Miss Sallie Fleming and little niece, of Indiana, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Hartford Turner.

Mr. Johnny Caull and wife, of Louisville, are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Maggie Kendall and children, who have been visiting Mrs. John Gillespie, left Friday for their home in Tennessee.

Miss Rose Shewmaker visited relatives at Battle last week.

Rev. G. V. Todd left yesterday to attend conference at Covington.

The new Christian church at Mackville will be dedicated the first Sunday in October.

Success to The Sun.

CARDWELL.

Messrs. R. A. Wilham, W. L. Graham and E. T. Perkins attended the fair Saturday.

Mr. Robert Noel, of Iowa, has returned to old Kentucky to make his future home. We gladly welcome Robert Noel to Cardwell.

At present our farmers are busy cutting tobacco. All report a good crop.

Miss Nannie Royalty is spending this week with Mrs. S. H. Gardner, and will attend the Baptist association at Glen's Creek Thursday and Friday.

J. T. Moberly has sold his farm, consisting of 150 acres, to H. J. Brown for $4,500. Possession will be given November 1, and Mr. Brown will move to this place.

Several from here attended County court Monday.

The entire community joins me in asking Fredericktown for one of its good physicians, as we are in great need of one. This is a good location and there would be no doubt about remuneration for services.

Willie Long lost a good horse by death this week.

Perkins & Brown furnishes the citizens of Cardwell with nice fresh beef every Friday evening at 6 1/2 cents per pound.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore visited at J. T. Moberly's Sunday.

Miss Nannie Votons is spending the week with Mrs. Alice Perkins.

Stock Sales

Mr. W. L. Graham, our jack man, bought two nice young jacks last week, one from Preston Burras and one from Joe Lankin, of Salvisa. Mr. Graham now has five jacks, all for sale.

"Shiners" Captured.

Elizabethtown Mirror: Deputy United States Marshal Condit and other revenue officers made a successful raid among the "moonshiners" at Harbin Springs Wednesday night of last week. The officers, the night previous, located a still in the Harbin Springs hills. The still was warm, showing it had just been used by the operators. The officers then retired, leaving the still, with the view of capturing the "moonshiners" the following night. Upon returning the next evening the still had been hauled away in a wagon. The officers followed the tracks which led into the horse lot of Sam. Walker. Walker's house was then surrounded. Sam, Walker and his son, William, Sam, Caswell and George Robert Williams were all captured within the house, placed under arrest and afterward carried to Owensboro for trial. About twenty gallons of "moonshine" whisky were found in the wagon with the still. The whisky was then poured upon the still and fired by the officers. The still and a brand-new Studebaker wagon were destroyed by fire. It is claimed that these men are the last of the "moonshiners" in the vicinity of Harbin Springs, Jeff Condit and other revenue officers having captured all other illicit distillers, or chased them off into other more inviting fields of operation. The Harbin Springs and Meeting Creek vicinities have always been more or less infested with "moonshiners," but it is now thought the county is rid of them. Their suppression has been largely due to the efforts of Marshal Condit, who was born and raised in Meeting Creek. He knew every ravine and hog path in that part of the county, and consequently is able to cope with all illicit distillers in the "moonshiners' country."

Chased Wife and Son From Home With a Pickaxe.

Harrodsburg Democrat: Pete Vandivier, who was arrested about three weeks ago, charged with assaulting his wife and son with a pickaxe, and who was tried before Judge Roach and released on bond of $200 to the Circuit Court, Sunday afternoon left the county for parts unknown. Several of the best citizens of the vicinity came to Judge Roach and told him if he would agree to it that Vandivier would leave the State, whereupon the judge gave

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhea Remedy

A few doses of this remedy will invariably cure an ordinary attack of diarrhea. It has been used in nine epidemics of dysentery with perfect success. It can always be depended upon, even in the more severe attacks of cholera colic and cholera morbus. It is equally successful for summer diarrhea and cholera infants in children, and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life. PRICE, 25c. LARGES SIZE, 50c.

THIRD REGIMENT.

In Fine Fettle Was It When on Dress Parade.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 28.—The largest crowd that ever assembled in the baseball park witnessed the dress parade of the Third regiment, which was performed without a mistake. As each company passed in review it was vigorously cheered. Rev. Frank Thomas, of Owensboro, the chaplain, conducted services Sunday morning. Gov. Beckham made his final inspection of the camp and equipment, finding everything in good order. Thousands of people visited the camp Sunday.

KILLED BY A PECULIAR MISHAP.

He Breaks His Neck While Gliding Down An Incline.

Mayking, Ky., Aug. 28.—James Ir. Lewis, aged 48, a deaf mute of Letcher county, cousin of Judge James P. Lewis, of Whitesburg, and a prominent personage, was killed at the Lenoxy Creek (Ky.) mines in a most peculiar manner. Lewis was gliding down an incline from the line on a piece of bark, when his feet struck an object, turning him a complete somersault, and striking on his head, his neck was broken.
